

Riding the Dragon: A POETRY WORKSHOP

with Maxima Kahn

FEBRUARY 27 - APRIL 9

SEVEN WEEKS * MONDAYS 3:30 - 5:30 PM

downtown Grass Valley

for all levels

A fun, supportive workshop to develop your poetic skills • Great for all writers

This lively class is designed to push you to new levels in your writing from wherever you are starting and to help you delve deeper into the world of poetry. The class will focus on positive constructive dialogue about your poems, while providing inspiring exercises, examples from published poets and illuminating issues of craft.

$180 (may be paid in two installments)

PRE-REGISTRATION BY FEB 21 NECESSARY

TO REGISTER OR FOR MORE INFORMATION: (530) 263-9780 OR MAX@MAXIMAKAHN.COM

WWW.MAXIMAKAHN.COM

Maxima Kahn has been writing and studying poetry for over 20 years, while pursuing activities in many artistic fields. An award-winning composer, she is also a violinist, dancer and graphic designer. She teaches poetry workshops privately and has taught at U.C. Davis Extension, and she works as an editor and writing coach for poets and writers of both fiction and non-fiction. Her writing has been featured in numerous literary journals, including Westview, Eclipse, Poem, Borderlands, The Meridian Anthology of Contemporary Poetry, Rattlesnake Review, Hardpan and elsewhere.

"I was delighted at Max's bottomless insight into the nature of poetry and into describing the process of writing poetry "

"It broke me out of my rut to try writing in styles I would have never done on my own "