

Sustaining the Artist's Way

☞ support for an ongoing creative life ☞
facilitated by Maxima Kahn

Maxima Kahn makes her living as a teacher, writer, editor and graphic designer. She teaches locally and has taught at U.C. Davis Extension. In addition to being a published writer, she holds a B.A. in Music Composition and Performance, is an award-winning composer and an avant-garde violinist, and teaches and performs as a dancer.

Are you seeking support, structure and creative community to realize your artistic dreams?

Created for those who have completed The Artist's Way (using the book by Julia Cameron), but open to artists who are engaged in a creative practice.

We will create a positive, encouraging group of artists, working in a variety of media, who can share their projects, goals, dreams, struggles and triumphs.

The class will:

- Promote the use of tools and concepts that support ongoing creative expression and fulfillment
- Explore what gets in the way and how to move beyond these obstacles
- Foster our innate creative passion, curiosity and playfulness
- Focus on defining and moving forward on specific creative projects or goals chosen by each participant

Through sharing our work and our experiences and having accountability, we foster a community of creative expression and expansion, which aids us in realizing our creative dreams.

TUESDAYS 6:30-9:00 PM

LAST DAY TO REGISTER: FEBRUARY 21

MEETS EVERY 3 WEEKS WITH WEEKLY EXCHANGE BETWEEN PARTICIPANTS

FEBRUARY 28, MARCH 20, APRIL 10, MAY 1, MAY 22, JUNE 12

LOCATION: GRASS VALLEY • COST: $243 (may be paid in two installments)

TO REGISTER AND FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Call Maxima at (530) 273-3566 or email max@maximakahn.com or visit www.maximakahn.com